MIGHTY CHANGES ARE BEING WROUGHT IN AMERICAN OVERSEAS BASE LOCATED ON SHORES OF FRANCE

(Associated Press Correspondence)

A Port in France, February 10.—A little more than six months have wrought a mighty change in the base at which, last June, the first division of American troops landed to go into training for their fight with the Germans.

The docks have been and are being enlarged, storage warehouses have been and are being built, the harbor has been dredged out to accommodate more and larger ships, and the railroad facilities have been nearly doubled and are being increased day by day.

The enlargement of the port has created a somewhat anomalous situation. For whereas up to about the end of last year troops landed more regularly and quickly than supplies, so that it was sometimes feared it would be necessary to draw temporarily on the French for their support, the base is now in the position of being able to handle more tonnage than is at present coming to it, either in the form of supply or troop ships.

The capacity of the port would, however, be almost reached with completion of the docks and store houses now under construction if it were not for far-reaching engineering plans that are under way.

The American authorities early foresaw that even comprehensive dock enlargements would inevitably result in congestion and confusion if some outlet were not arranged for the increasing supplies expected to arrive when they are needed, and which even increased storage space could not be expected to accommodate the problem resolved itself into one of transportation.

Therefore, while the railroad tracks at the port itself are vastly more numerous than they were six months ago, the American engineers have conceived a plan whereby a vast tract of land three or four miles back of the port has been taken over, and is being developed coincidentally with the port itself.

On either side of a huge basin into which ships can if necessary be towed and unloaded, dozens of parallel spur tracks are being laid. They will serve a dual purpose, for cars either can be filled from barges and vessels brought into the basin, or cars loaded at the port itself can quickly and easily be hauled to the spurs and there made up into trains.

The Americans already have taken over on lease from the French certain lines of railroad which will be fed from the yards of the port and of its complementary station in the rear. They are increasing constantly the efficiency and capacity of the port itself by helping the French to economize in dock and transportation space.

The American plan which envisages caring for vastly more volume than the port would normally accommodate, even with the enlargement of docks and store houses, is not original with them but is more or less a copy of what the English have done at another port, where they have increased the daily output of merchandise from about 200 cars or less to more than 700. This they have been able to do by laying out huge yards to the rear of the actual port to avoid congestion and to facilitate making up trains.

The steady development of the American port has made it necessary to rearrange the manner in which the work is done. Last July a comparatively small branch of the quartermaster's department was amply able to superintend and manage the unloading and distribution of supplies. Today the work has grown so that it has had to be entrusted to a railway transportation department that is growing in size every week and which now merely turns over to the quartermaster, as it does to the engineers, the aviation and all other departments such material as belongs to each.

To keep pace with the increasing volume of supplies that arrive a huge force of workmen has been found necessary. Two regiments of colored soldiers, numbering three thousand men and most of them husky stevedores and long-shoremen from New York and Southern ports in times of peace, now do the bulk of the unloading from the ships and the reloading of the trains.

A not inconsiderable force of German prisoners of war, with whom the negroes especially seem to enjoy fraternizing, are at work about the docks from early morning until evening.

COERCIVE FOOD SAVING IS NEAR

Agricultural Committee of the House Insists Food Crisis Is Such that Drastic Action Is Necessary.

Many Persons Are Not Obeying Request for Conservation, Says Report Filed.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—Compulsory food conservation is necessary in the opinion of members of the House Agricultural Committee which today submitted its report on the bill giving the President power to regulate public eating houses and the distribution and manufacture of food-stuffs.

The bill does not directly affect householders.

The report recalls that the President has no power to enforce economy in consumption under existing food laws.

The appeals to save food have met with gratifying results, the report says and adds:

"But there is a small percent of people who either wilfully or for lack of understanding fail to respond to the call made for patriotic duty."

"The food situation as it affects us and our allies," the report continues, "is becoming so critically serious as to warn the committee in the belief that the necessity is upon us of adopting certain compulsory methods of conservation."

Although the bill does not authorize a rationing system for consumers in the language of the report "it would permit the President to limit the amount of any product which may be shipped into a particular district or delivered to any distributor."

MILITARY LAW IN PENN. CITY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Lockhaven, Pa., February 23.—The flood in the Susquehanna river which all but inundated this city Wednesday night, damaged New York and Pennsylvania paper company properties $100,000. Other losses in and around the city amount to $650,000.

Relief for those whose homes were destroyed is coming in and representatives of the state health department are taking precaution to prevent an epidemic.

Early today the city was placed under martial law.

THE WEATHER

Washington, February 23.—(Associated Press Dispatch).—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday, issued by the Weather Bureau are:

Ohio Valley, Temperatures first part above average. Local rains and colder Tuesday or Wednesday. Probably seasonal temperatures and fair thereafter.

EMBASSIES PREPARING TO DEPART

Allied Ministers to Russia Will Follow Bolsheviki Officials Inland if Petrograd Is Threatened.

(Associated Press Cable)

Petrograd, February 23.—The allied embassies will leave Petrograd in the event the German advance threatens this city. They are ready, however, to aid Russia to fight the Germans.

The embassies are virtually unanimous in a decision not to break relations in any event.

If Petrograd is actually threatened the embassy staff probably will proceed inland with the Bolsheviki government wherever it may move.

TO DEFEND CITY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—Ambassador Francis advised the State Department today of the intention of diplomatic corps in Petrograd to leave the city with the Bolsheviki government if the Germans menaced the city.

The American Ambassador gave no details as to the plan of the diplomatic corps but added that the Soviet government was planning to make a defense of the city if necessary.

POPULACE OF NORTH CHINA HAS PLAGUE

Pneumonic Plague Has Broken Out Among Chinese and Is One of Most Deadly of All Diseases.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Boston, February 23.—The pneumonic plague has broken out in Shansi Province, China, and has assumed such proportions that all North China is seriously threatened, according to advices received today by the American Board of Commissioners for foreign missions from members of its staff in China.

WORSE THAN WAR FAMINE AND FLOOD

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Boston, February 23.—Unchecked in North China this most deadly disease would prove, in the opinion of the board, more devastating than flood, famine and war combined.

A statement issued by the board says:

"Practically no one who becomes a victim of the plague recovers. It is the same disease that ravaged Mongolia five years ago and carried off 40,000 people before it was checked."

WILL INCREASE WHEAT PRICE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—There were indications today that the price of the 1918 wheat crop would be increased soon by Presidential proclamation.

Under the food control law the price for wheat of the 1918 crop was set at $2 per bushel, but that is construed to be a minimum and that the President has authority to increase the price if he considers conditions warrant it.

FORD TO MAKE SUB. KILLERS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Detroit, Mich., February 23.—Announcement was made today by the Ford Motor Company that work was started yesterday on a ship-building plant that is to turn out submarine killers.

The buildings which are to cover five acres, probably will be completed in May. The plant will employ between 10,000 and 15,000 men.

MYRIADS OF ARMY RIFLES ARE PRODUCED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—Seven hundred thousand army rifles have been produced in the United States since this country entered the war, according to a statement made public today by the ordinance bureau of the War Department.

During the week ending February 3 the daily production was 7,805 Enfield and 1,442 Springfield rifles and a total of 9,247 service rifles added to the stock every day.

This production, statement, says is the greatest ever achieved by any country in a similar period of ten months.

The country now has a total of 1,300,000 service rifles.

M'ADOO PUTS FOOT DOWN ON NEW OFFICES

Makes it Plain that Government Will Not Permit Creation of New High-salaried Offices by Railroads.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—A general order restricting the creating of new official positions by railroads or the raising of officer's salaries was issued today by Director General McAdoo.

Under the order a railroad may not fill a vacancy above the grade of General manager or create such an office without approval.

This action was prompted by rumors that some roads were planning to create new high-salaried positions on assumption the salary would be paid by the government and the railroad compensation would not be diminished.

Director General McAdoo today also directed railroad presidents to furnish him detailed information on the salaries of officers and employees, rentals and other expenses of financial offices mentioned by most roads.

It is understood this information may be used as a basis for determining to what extent overhead expenses involved may be curtailed or eliminated under government control.

IMPROVING

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, February 23.—The condition of James W. Gerard, former United States Ambassador to Germany, who was operated upon Wednesday for a nasal abscess was reported satisfactory today. It was announced the crisis had passed.

TEUTONS 90 MILES NORTHEAST OF RIGA

HUN PROPAGANDA IN OLD MEXICO

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Mexico City, February 23.—Germans in Mexico, especially at the capital, are supplying H. Von Eckardt, the German minister here, with the shrews of war for the extensive propaganda campaign that is being carried on by the legation, both through newspapers and private agents.

There has been much speculation as to what means the German minister used to secure funds to maintain the large legation, his sumptuous home and the Teutonic propaganda since he was cut off from fatherland, but it is now learned that German banks, business houses and individuals are buying his notes on the Imperial government.

The claim has been advanced repeatedly that Von Eckardt, deprived of the use of neutral diplomatic wires in communicating with his government, was keeping in touch with the Berlin foreign office through letters carried on Spanish ships to the gulf of Biscay, whence they were sent by submarine to Berlin.

It was stated that he was being supplied with funds via this route, but the enormous sums being spent by the legation seemed to make this claim untenable.

Despite denial by the Spanish line involved, it is believed here, that Von Eckardt's letters are being carried on its ships, that messages from the legation, sent in plain envelopes to reliable addresses in Spain, ultimately find their way to Berlin, by way of Switzerland or some other route.

Invasion Slowing Up as Teutons Get Further Away from Base, Says Late Reports from Front.

Little Uneasiness in Petrograd, Where Many Would Welcome the Germans. Turks Busy.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Although cablegrams indicate the German advance into Russia is not moving as fast as at first, Berlin statements today report the invaders have reached Walk in Livonia, 90 miles northeast of Riga and Vohlyna, where the Teuton army is marching from Lutsk, the town of Dubno has been reached.

While the situation appears serious latest dispatches received in London say the inhabitants of Petrograd await coming events with an outward calm, and continue to pursue their ordinary business life, seemingly unconcerned over the great interest at stake.

These reports are that the majority of the population would welcome the arrival of the Germans, fearing an outbreak of uncontrolled anarchy with riots and murder. The bulk of the people seem tired of hunger and disorder.

Representatives at the inter-allied labor conference in London reached an agreement today to support the British war aims.

After a silence of several weeks a London dispatch today reports renewal of activities in the Caucasus. The Turkish army has begun an offensive before the expiration of the armistice.

RAIDS CONTINUE

Raids of not great proportions continue to be the only activity reported from the other fronts.

In the Champagne sector last night the French carried out a successful raid bringing back prisoners and war material. Scottish troops on the British front also raided enemy trenches and returned to their lines with prisoners.

No French merchantmen or fishing vessels were sunk by German submarines or mines during the past week.

Another Spanish ship has been sent down by the Germans.

SECOND DRAFT APRIL OR MAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, February 23.—While War Department officials reiterated that no date has definitely been fixed for calling of the second draft for the national army, available indications would seem to point to sometime in April or early in May.

Equipment and supplies for men of the second draft will become available soon after April 1st.

The number of men to be called in the first increment has not been determined because the question of housing them has not been settled.

MUST FIGHT LIKE DEMONS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Los Angeles, Cal., February 23.—To fight like superhuman beings and to achieve the seemingly impossible are requisites for Americans in winning the war, Frank A. Vanderlip, head of the Government war certificates and thrift stamp campaign declared in a statement published here today.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET GREAT EVENT

More Than 400 Fathers and Sons from All Parts of County Enjoy Evening Together at Y. M. C. A.

Another Notable Address Delivered by Rev. B. C. Evans, of Athens, Who Talks on the War.

The annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet at the Y. M. C. A., Friday night, was not only the largest of its kind ever held in the city, but one of the largest banquets ever held in the city, more than 400 fathers and sons being served at the same time.

The crowd was larger than anticipated, and it was necessary to accommodate upward of 100 persons on the second floor of the building, in addition to the more than 300 seated in the main auditorium, or gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. building.

The banquet was arranged by a hard working and efficient committee headed by R. J. McLean, and regardless of the unexpectedly large number everyone was taken care of promptly and satisfactorily.

Assisting Chairman McLean were Messrs. Grant Coffman, Ed Fite, Earl McLean, Clarence Baer, M. E. Hitchcock, Horace Ireland, Clarence Craig, Walter Craig, Forest Tipton, Bert Ellis, Geo. Sunkle, J. E. Sheppard, Earl Barnett.

The dining rooms were lavishly decorated in the national colors, and the flags of the allied nations were unfurled immediately over the speakers at the front of the tables.

The serving was in the hands of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. and nearly two score women and girls performed their tasks faultlessly, regardless of cramped surroundings.

Master Emmitt Hardway, son of Captain O. E. Hardway, was the one guest of honor present, being the only son of a soldier now in service that could be located. Particular attention was given to the honor guest.

It was an inspiring sight to see the long rows of men and boys assembled about the attractively decorated tables and enjoying themselves immensely. And it was quite noticeable that there were a number of sons in strange contrast with the "father" who had taken him to the banquet, indicating that many a lad who had a grown-up pal was not forgotten.

Following the banquet Master of Ceremonies J. D. Post spoke briefly before introducing the main speaker of the evening—Rev. B. C. Evans, of Athens, Ohio.

Mr. Post stated that it was sad but true that at the present stage of the great war the Central Empires were still victorious, and that it was up to the United States to turn the tide of battle and defeat the ruthless force of German militarism, and that it was up to every individual to give of his time, money, loved ones, and make any and every sacrifice necessary, and to do it gladly and uncomplainingly in order to crush German militarism.

"It is the most serious situation ever confronting America, and we must all take hold with determination to not let loose until the world is safe for democracy," declared Mr. Post.

Mr. Post recalled the visit of the Austrian Foreign Minister, Count Czernin, to Washington while Mr. Post was in Congress, and the speech made by Czernin before the Congress. He then introduced Rev. Evans, who was greeted by an outburst of applause, many of those present having heard him upon the occasion of his previous visit here.

Rev. Evans recalled with pleasure his former visit to this city and the great demonstration that greeted his words before the Fish and Game Association assembly.

Rev. Evans spoke on the possibilities of the world war and what will come of it, declaring that the whole world is now in turmoil and is facing a new civilization, the present time being the crisis of the age when it is America's privilege and duty to fight the battle for the future of mankind.

"Our boys here tonight will some day ask us what part we played in the great struggle, and I hope that all of us can answer proudly that we did our level best toward making the world safe to live in and toward protecting our homes and the homes of our neighbors," said Rev. Evans.

Throughout his discourse, Rev. Evans was frequently interrupted by great outbursts of applause, showing that his every word was approved by the loyal citizens assembled.

He declared that a new world is taking shape—a new world of thought and activity—a new world in which to live, and that this new life will affect every individual as well as every nation; that if militarism is not crushed now and forever, this country must be an armed camp, and if militarism is crushed—which he is confident it will be, then a new birth of freedom for the entire world takes place.

"The time has come and it is up to American citizens to determine whether this world is going to be ruled by war or by reason," he said, "and the most religious obligation of all at the present time is to put their might into the winning of this war."

Rev. Evans stated that since being here before he had heard from his son in France, after not a line from him for a period of six months, and that he was glad that he had a son at the battlefield, and that if necessary for that son to give up his life in the cause of Liberty, that he could die in no nobler cause.

He hinted at unmentionable crimes committed by the German soldiers and with the permission of the high officers of the German army. He also told of the shocking condition of morals in Germany.

"No finer definition of war has ever been expressed than that given by Sherman," declared the speaker.

He was greeted with loud applause when he declared that the time had come when a person, if they can't be wholly American, they should go back to Germany and stay there.

He spoke of his trip to France and what he saw there, and how the American soldiers were determined to fight to a finish in bringing the war to a successful termination.

"We are now fusing together on the anvil of war a chain of universal brotherhood that cannot be broken," said Rev. Evans.

Another statement that made a profound impression upon everyone was the declaration that he would rather take his chances as one of the soldier boys who go over the top with a curse on their lips and die for Liberty, than the slacker, who stays at home and is indifferent to winning the war.

In the concluding moments of his address, Rev. Evans called attention to the fact that American troops are nearest the Rhine and that Old Glory would probably be the first to cross the Rhine.

His address made a deep impression and will do much toward arousing the people in general to a sense of their obligation in the war.

Following his address he passed about a large number of pictures and war trophies obtained in France.

CHAMPION HOG RAISERS

Frank L. Parret, six miles from Washington C. H. on the Prairie pike and W. H. Wilson eight miles from Washington C. H. on the Worthington pike (on the Spencer Calvert farm) are in the lead in Fayette County as they have broken all past records, considering the number of hogs bred, raised and fed, and marketed at one time by any one man and the amount realized for one man's feeding.

Mr. Parret delivered 542 hogs a few days ago, that averaged 267 pounds and realized the net sum of Twenty-two Thousand Six Hundred and Fifty Dollars, ($22,650.00).

Only a short time previous Mr. W. H. Wilson delivered to same party 447 hogs, all fed together, that averaged 210 pounds.

This was an exceptional fine lot of hogs and the amount realized was $22,515.59. (Twenty-two Thousand Five Hundred Fifteen Dollars and Ninety-nine cents). Making a net total of the two bunches in number 987 head and making a net total cost of $45,165.59. (Forty-five Thousand One Hundred Sixty-five Dollars and Ninety-nine cents).

On Driggs of Washington C. H., was the purchaser of the two choice lots of hogs.

LAST CALL COMES TO OLD TIME RESIDENT

Miss Sallie Pursell received word Friday of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Anna P. Harrison, at the home of Mrs. Harrison's youngest son, Mr. Cleon Hills, in Bloomington, Ill.

Death resulted from a fall in which Mrs. Harrison's hip was broken some months ago. She was 91 years of age.

Mrs. Harrison will be better remembered in this community as Mrs. Anna Hills, sister of the late Mr. James Pursell. For many years she made her home with her grandfather, Mr. Reuben Pursell, one of the earliest settlers of the county and a veteran of the war of 1812. Their home was one of the old houses of the town, long since torn down, on the corner of N. Main and Temple streets, where the present home of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey now stands.

For many years Mrs. Harrison has made her home in Illinois.

KAISER'S AMERICAN DENTIST IS HOME

DR. ARTHUR N. DAVIS

Dr. Arthur N. Davis, of Piqua, O., although an American, has been personal dentist of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany for several years.

Dr. Davis recently arrived in New York. He was permitted to leave Germany on a military pass signed by the Emperor.

He would not discuss conditions in Germany, but said that the German people are anxious for peace and look forward to the beginning of negotiations.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

The following letter is contributed as the views of a local reader.

VACCINATION AND SMALLPOX
Editor Ohio State Journal:
I noticed in today's paper that the smallpox situation is the worst in five years, and that lack of vaccination is given as one cause. This is a topic that is and should be one of considerable interest to all people and lack of vaccination may not be the real cause of the epidemic, but rather too much vaccination may be the cause.

Five years ago, four years ago, three years ago, two years ago, one year ago we did not have general vaccination and we did not have an epidemic of smallpox. Within the past year, however, we have had hundreds of thousands of young men vaccinated. I wonder if here may not be the cause of the epidemic. These vaccinated young men have had very sore arms, have been more or less sick as a result of the vaccination, may have had varioloid in a very mild form, unrecognizable as such, and have mixed freely with all classes of people. Is it not possible that people all over the state have been exposed to the disease in just this way, by coming in contact with those suffering from the effects of vaccination? If so, smallpox has been kept alive in Ohio as a result of vaccination.

Whether vaccination prevents or not is a big question. In the high school here a student broke out with the disease. The health board ordered vaccination of all high school pupils. Most of them obeyed the order. A few did not. This has been several weeks ago. We cannot say that if the many had refused to be vaccinated several would have taken the disease. We do not know. We do know that no further case has developed. If vaccination and vaccination alone prevents, then why have not a part, at least, of the few who refused vaccination—why have not a part of these taken smallpox?

Other causes for the smallpox situation are given as "mistakes of physicians in diagnosing the disease as chickenpox" and "laxity of quarantine measures in certain localities." I don't believe these have any weight on the situation. We have had chickenpox during the last five years and we have had a few isolated cases of smallpox, and there is no reason why there should be any greater confusion in diagnosis during past months than during the years previous. Nor has there been any greater laxity of quarantine measures, nor any reason for such.

I would like to see this question discussed in the "Readers' Column." E. R. BEBOUT, Newark, O., Feb. 19.

WAR PRICES OF WHEAT IN U. S.

The prices of wheat during the most important wars are reported as follows:

In 1775, war of American Revolution, wheat was 93 cents per bushel average at seaboard markets in 1788; rose yearly to 1795, with an average of $2.48, the high mark being $3. Then continued high average owing to the French Revolution, Napoleonic wars and the war of 1812.

In 1815, European war; Waterloo ended hostilities and resulted in some break in prices. The average price in 1815 being $1.76, then rose to $2.85 in 1817.

In 1854-1856, Crimean war, wheat was 38 cents in 1852, and rose to $1.85 in 1855, which was the top. After some decline, wheat rallied again in 1857, but the upward move was interfered with by the panic of that period and the failure of the Ohio Life and Trust Co.

In 1860-1864—Civil War—Wheat in Chicago was 62 cents in 1861, rose to $2.28 in 1864, broke with end of the war to 74 cents early in 1865, followed by a violent advance to $2.85 in the spring of 1867. It made the same high mark as in 1817, just 50 years previous.

In 1876-1878 — Russo-Turkish war, wheat was $2 cents in 1876 and rose to $1.76 in 1877, broke to 77 cents at conclusion of war only to rise to $1.44 in 1882.

In 1898, the Spanish-American war, wheat was 63 cents in the spring of 1897. The Leiter deal on, prices rose to $1.85 for May wheat and $1.25 for July wheat in May, 1898; it collapsed to 63 cents before the end of the war, on failure of Leiter deal.

In 1914, General European war, wheat in the middle of July was 84½ cents for May option; rose to $1.32 early in September. In May, 1917, No. 2 wheat reached $3.45 in Chicago. At the present time wheat is $2.20 in Chicago.

WOUNDED 8 TIMES MAN FROM FRONT WILL SPEAK HERE

Sergeant Arthur Quigley, of Franklin, Ohio, who spent two and one-half years at the front with the daring Canadian soldiers, and who was wounded eight times, will soon speak in this city, at the solicitation of Mr. G. L. Sheets of this city, who is a personal friend of Sgt. Quigley.

Sgt. Quigley, wounded by shell and ball and drawn by rheumatism contracted while in the wet trenches, is speaking at Cantonment camps and other places, and his story of the work of the Red Cross is one of the most interesting ever told. As he was in the hospitals some eight or ten months he is well qualified to speak on Red Cross work at the front and on the stirring scenes in the front line trenches, in no man's land and in captured German positions.

HARTMAN THEATER

(Columbus, O.)

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 28, March 1 and 2—Matinee Saturday—"The 13th Chair."

A return engagement which will be of exceptional interest to all patrons of the Hartman Theater, Columbus, is that of "The 13th Chair," Bayard Veiller's now famous mystic melodrama, which will be seen again at the Hartman on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, on February 28, March 1 and 2. Mail orders for seats for this wonderful play will be received now, filled promptly in order of their receipt, and returned, when accompanied by a stamped, self addressed envelope and remittance, including the war tax.

When "The 13th Chair" was presented at the Hartman early this season, in spite of the advance information which gave indubitable proof that it was one of the really remarkable plays of modern times, audiences left the theater in amazement at the thrilling force, interest, and suspense of Mr. Veiller's masterpiece. Hundreds were unable to secure seats during this earlier engagement, and hundreds of requests have been received by the management of the Hartman, asking that the play be brought back if possible.

The plot, in brief, deals with a double murder, the first of which occurs before the play opens. At a spiritual seance, held at the home of prominent society folk, as amusement for dinner guests, a friend of the man murdered some time previous, tries through the medium, old Rosalie La Grange, to find out the name of the criminal. Just as the medium seems about to pronounce this name, there is a scream, lights are turned on, and the friend of the dead man is found to have been murdered. The room was securely fastened against outside intrusion, and the murderer obviously is one of the thirteen people taking part in the seance. Not until the last few moments of the play is the identity of the murderer disclosed. No play ever produced holds audiences in such breathless suspense as does "The 13th Chair." It is one of the dramatic offerings which should not be missed on any account.

SINGLEHAND CAPTURE

The news dispatches tell us of an American trooper capturing single-handed a German in "no man's land." That's American spirit. We have been very successful in capturing particular customers, but by no means singlehanded, for we keep a large and efficient corps of laundry experts, without which we could not turn the trick easily.

The Best Kind of Dividends

The act of Colonel Richard Enderlin, of Chillicothe, in giving a $50 Liberty Bond to every boy and girl who is promoted from both the public schools and the parochial schools in his home town, is a patriotic move that deserves to be lauded.

Such a gift offers a high incentive to students to put in their best efforts and arouses a pride of ownership that can hardly help but be followed by excellent results. The owning of a Liberty Bond as a nucleus may be the inspiration leading to substantial sums saved, and the inculcation of the thrift habit, which are the main purposes of the gift, and of inestimable value.

As there will be approximately over a hundred promotions from these grades, Colonel Enderlin is doing a big "bit" in the Liberty Loan drive and with an unselfishness that shows a fine type of patriotism. Although he will receive no return for the government loan as far as money remuneration, his dividends will be the most profitable kind—returns that mean increased man and woman power, given its rise and impetus in his generous act.

Such returns are the best kind of dividends.

A Patriotic Investment

It has been decided that the Fayette County War Work Council will formally within the next few days make a systematic drive toward the sale of the county's quota of War Savings and Thrift stamps. There should be a generous response upon the part of the people to absorb the portion of stamps allotted to our county.

In the first place, as a form of lucrative investment there can be no gainsaying the statement that these stamps are very attractive. To the small wage earner they present an opportunity to invest his savings profitably and patriotically. It is to this class that the government in the main has directed its appeal. This is every man's war and every man is expected in some way to contribute to its success. The encouragement of thrift is doubly valuable, both to the individual and the nation.

But there is another thought that the practice of thrift, even among the people of larger means is destined to operate as a determining factor in the winning of the war. To these, thrift stamps offer an inviting means for the practice of saving.

The biggest problem of the present time, is not the problem of money, not the problem of armies but the problem of production. The demands of the war have added to the problem of production an increased burden of sixty per cent. How to meet that increased demand is the problem of the hour. The people can assist materially in its solution. And that solution is involved only in the exercise of thrift. This is no time for excesses and luxuries. This is no time for pandering to self. This is a day of serious endeavor, when self is entitled to the least consideration. Therefore efface self and the thought of self, practice thrift and do your all toward winning the war.

The Fruit of Frightfulness

One of the professed aims of German frightfulness has been the intimidation of the peoples against which it has been directed. It was the opinion of the imperial authorities that by the adoption of ferocity they could instill fear into the hearts of armies and civilians alike, and thus demoralize their foes not only on the battle fronts but behind the lines. Whether they still hold this belief may be questioned; if they do it is in the face of all the facts.

The immediate practical reaction of the American public to the first success of a U-boat in attack on an out-ward-bound transport carrying United States troops has been a marked stimulation of voluntary enlistments in the army and the marine corps. The men presenting themselves to the recruiting officers have been outside the draft age, and their mental attitude has been revealed in the question, asked by practically all of them, "How soon shall I be sent to France?" The death of several score soldiers who were helpless to protect themselves has not served to depress or shake the population, but on the other hand, has spurred it to immediate efforts to do something to punish the nation's foe.

The same phenomenon, on a scale commensurate with the atrocities committed by the Germans, has been observable in England. The killing of Nurse Cavell sent thousands of Englishmen to the recruiting offices. The murder of babies and school children and women in air raids, instead of frightening civilians, has stealed their hearts to greater sacrifices. Poison gas has not broken the courage of the entente soldiers. Crucifixion of prisoners has had no other effect than to embitter their comrades. In general it may be said that frightfulness has produced only feelings of contempt and desire for revenge, wherever it has been practiced; that is, wherever the Germans have operated their war machine.

These sentiments are so deep seated that they will not pass away when peace is signed. The Canadians, for example, will not forget in one generation or in two the atrocious tales of savagery their soldiers bring back from Europe. No government can erase from the hearts and minds of its people the disgust and hatred implanted by the deliberate policy of the German military caste and the acts performed in accordance therewith.—New York Sun.

Poetry For Today

CUT OUT THE SOB STUFF.

Cut out the sob stuff, Sis, when you're writing over here;

Do not tell me that "Mother is so sad!"

I know it, and I'm sorry that "her heart is filled with fear For her boy," who needs bright words to make him glad.

We are learning a new job—and we're very hard at work. But not one of us has time for feeling glum;

You should write the kind of stuff that puts pep into a man.

But sis, dear, on that sob stuff please keep mum.

I know it isn't easy; but we're here to play the game! And when the letters which we call "Blue Flank,"

Those tear-stained letters 'stead of longed for cheer up stuff from home

Arrive, do you think they fill us boys with spunk?

Our Uncle Sam has called us, and we're here to do the job.

So say to every one who has a boy That if she wants to do her bit and keep him well and strong

She must write the sort of news that he'll enjoy.

The spirit of the boys is great! We're bound to win this war!

All the bowed down suffering nations to release!

And with God's help we'll fight until there dawns upon the earth

A wonderful and all-abiding Peace! —New York Sun.

TRIP POSSIBLE

New York, Feb. 23.—The United States can begin flying bombing planes across the Atlantic ocean in July, providing the government authorities act fast enough, according to Henry A. Wise Wood of the board of governors of the Aero Club of America. Mr. Wood also said that a transoceanic trip had now been made possible by the invention of a "mechanical navigator," this device permitting an aviator easily to map out a course across the ocean. "The crossing," said Mr. Wood, "could be made in 23 hours, the distance to Ireland being 1,900 miles." The crew of each bombing plane would consist of two pilots, two engineers and one navigator.

DIES SUDDENLY WHILE AT WORK

Hamilton Ross, aged about 42 years, farm laborer employed on the John Collopy farm two miles east of this city, died suddenly Saturday morning while at work hitching up a horse at the barn preparatory for the Collopy family coming to this city to attend the Hearn funeral.

The man had been subject to attacks of heart trouble for some time, it is understood, and Friday night he complained of feeling badly. He arose at the usual hour Saturday morning, ate breakfast, and then went after the horse and buggy at the barn.

When sometime elapsed and he failed to return with the horse and buggy, Mr. Collopy went to investigate and found the man on the barn floor, breathing his last. He died before aid could reach him.

The deceased is from the Good Hope neighborhood, and his relatives reside in Springfield. They were notified and came to this city later in the day to arrange for the funeral service.

The body was brought to the McCoy undertaking establishment for preparation for burial.

Washington, February 23. — Hearings were begun today in the Senate Judiciary Committee on the bill by Senator King of Utah to revoke the charter of the German American Alliance.

Representatives of the alliance are ready to testify and declared they would denounce the charge that the organization was disloyal.

Gustavus Olinger, a Toledo, Ohio lawyer, who said he had studied the organization closely denounced it as an unpatriotic organization, the object of which was to establish the doctrine of Pan-Germanism in the United States as had been done in Austria.

The entrance of the United States into war put a stop to the activities in this country, Olinger said.

REFUGEES TAKEN INTO BIG HOTELS

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Taurinina, Sicily, February 2. — Fourteen hundred refugees from the country north of the Pyrene have found shelter in this old Sicilian mountain town, described by some Americans as the most beautiful place in the world. The hotels which cared for tourists before the war have been thrown open to the refugees. They have rooms generally by families, and club together for their meals in much the same way that Italian immigrants make shift on the emigrant steamers.

English and American residents joined with the townspeople in providing clothing. The two problems are food and employment, and representatives of the American Red Cross who visited here left a fund with the local war committee to purchase wool and pay the refugee women for knitting warm socks and gloves for Italian soldiers.

Five hundred refugees arrived at mid night at the Giardini station, two and a half miles below of the coast. The railroad, in the midst of a torrential downpour. The feeblest and oldest were brought up in carriages, hundreds climbed the steep footpath in utter darkness and in fear of the eerie height to which they were taken. A very few had bundles of simple clothing, the majority only the clothes they were standing in. Some had escaped in the night barely clothed.

Social and Personal

All by way of celebrating Washington's birthday the Daughters of the American Revolution gave a charming Colonial tea, including a patriotic program, at the Federated Club rooms Friday afternoon.

Hatches, cherries and such decorations as are symbols of incidents in the life of our first President were effectively introduced and together with the national colors and a profusion of flowers lent to the air of a reception room in Colonial days. A tall vase held an immense cluster of red, white and blue carnations, placed beneath George Washington's picture as the back ground for the program.

Being a chapter affair the officers present, Mrs. Woodward Regent, Mesdames Daugherty, Maynard, Holloway and Miss Forest Allen, formed the receiving line and gave cordial welcome to a large number of Daughters and guests.

Mrs. John McFadden and Miss Forest Allen presented a most attractive program, to which their own talent as readers generously contributed.

It was opened by Miss Mable Briggs who played with splendid rhythm and spirit a medley of national airs, winding up with the new popular song, "Over There," which has become such a favorite with the boys at camp that it is called the "Soldier Boy's Anthem."

Miss Allen gave a beautiful reading "Old Glory," bringing out the pathos of a child's struggle to be loyal despite early training and association with fine effect.

Miss Dorothy Parrett who has a rarely sweet and strong soprano for so young a girl, made her debut to the Daughters in De Koven's "Winter Lullaby." Miss Parrett also has unusual poise and vocal appreciation for a young student.

"The Story of Rosalind's Surrender" a dramatic and vividly alive story of a southern girl's love for a northern soldier and her surrender of the grey for the blue, was charmingly given by Mrs. McFadden, whose work in the emotional roles was especially fine.

Miss Ada Woodward met the requirements of a brilliant and difficult vocal solo, "A Birthday"—R. Huntington Woodman admirably, her charming manner adding to the pleasure of the song.

Miss Allen, who was at her best Friday and that is saying a great deal, closed the program with a beautiful musical reading, "The Flag." Miss Mable Briggs the accompanist.

A war time afternoon tea, beautiful in appointment and carrying out the conservation idea, was served. The tea table, at which Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Daugherty poured, made a lovely picture, with genuine Colonial tea cloth loaned by Mrs. Maria Hegler, Colonial Silver and a big brass center bowl of pale pink tulips, the base encircled with cherries.

The favors were tiny hatches the Chapter was indebted to Mrs. Buck for the carnations in the national colors.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Blackmore entertained with an elaborate six o'clock dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fellers and little daughter, Jane Kathryn who are moving to Columbus to make their future home.

Covers were laid for ten. Patriotic decorations were used very artistically and appropriately remembering George Washington's natal day. Seated with the honor guests were the host and hostess, son, Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Perce Pearce, son Henry Miss Mary Ellen Briggs.

The M. E. Group B of Washington Avenue met with Mrs. Clarence Penney Friday night, the assisting hostesses being Mesdames Clarence Craig, Ola Boyer and Arthur Pyley.

Mrs. Boyer, chairman, had charge of the program and read the lesson in the Methodist manner.

The guests enjoyed a piano solo contributed by Miss Reuben Elliott, after which Mrs. Lee Gregg gave a very interesting paper on "Methodism and John Wesley."

Mrs. Laura Gregg and Miss Caroline Larimer sang a pretty duet.

Mrs. Clarence Craig favored the group with a charming reading.

Refreshments were served and the evening closed with a much enjoyed social hour. There were thirty-five in attendance.

The Stafford home was hospitably entertained with decorations appropriate to Washington's birthday on Thursday afternoon, when Miss Annette Stafford and Mrs. Ralph Allen entertained their Kensington club, "The Three Five Knitters" and "The Happy Go Lucky" clubs.

The affair was thoroughly delightful in its sociability and late in the afternoon a dainty collation was served.

Mrs. C. A. Stafford, Mrs. Leota Hays and Miss Clara Wood assisted in the hospitalities.

Miss Mary Davis, of Xenia, and Miss Rachel Davis, of Columbus, are the week end guest of Mr. Phil Davis and family.

Mr. Virgil Henry of Greenfield spent Friday the guest of his sister, Mrs. May Maynard.

Miss Ethel Rayburn, Commercial teacher in the High School, is visiting at her home in Wilmington over Sunday.

Mr. Carl Bishop returned Friday evening to Evansville, after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bishop.

Mrs. L. E. Cook, who has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. Gage, of Circle Avenue, the past week, returned to her home in Columbus Friday.

Miss Emma Wilson is home after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Forest Horne, in Dayton.

Miss Georgia Taylor attended the Basket Ball Tournament in Greenfield today.

WITNESS TELLS OF POVERTY CAUSE

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Harvey G. Elder, supervisor of Armour & Company's employees' welfare and relief department, testified before Federal Judge Ainschuler, arbitrator in the stock yards wage controversy, that living conditions "back of the yards" are better than in the Ghetto and other congested districts about Chicago's industrial centers.

Many families in the district "back of the yards," he testified, live in crowded, unsanitary quarters and might not be properly clothed and fed. He added, however, that all were not employed at the stock yards. Poor management of household affairs, bad habits, lack of thrift and in some cases the deaths of husbands were some of the causes named, by the witness which led to poverty and suffering among the workers.

The witness pointed to two homes visited by Judge Ainschuler in his tour of the district. Heads of both families received $16.50 a week. One home was a model of neatness, while the other was filthy, the children ragged and poorly fed.

Soldier Killed.

Dayton, O., Feb. 23.—Explosion of a shell at Fort Sam Houston, where he was in the officers training school, caused the death of Captain Harry A. Seeborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Seeborn, living near Van Dallas, according to word received here. The body will be brought to the home of his parents for burial.

Flour Taken From Hoarders.

Toledo, Feb. 23.—The homes of six men, accused of hoarding flour in excess of the government allowance, were raided by the police upon information furnished by the county food committee. Several barrels of flour were found in homes in the East Side iron mill district. No arrests were made, but the surplus flour was confiscated.

GIRL GRADUATES URGED TO PREPARE AS FOOD LEADERS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., February 23.—Women of graduating classes of Ohio schools, colleges and universities are urged to make a special study of food problems to be prepared to help "lead" the state in war work, in a message to them from Herbert Hoover, federal food administrator. The plan for mobilizing such talent in Ohio is starting through Ohio food administration. Miss Edna N. White, director of home economics, Ohio State University, and a member of the state food administration staff, now is preparing a special outline of study in line with Mr. Hoover's suggestions.

"The United States food administration calls you to its service," says Mr. Hoover in a message directed to graduating women. "Our need is so great that we appeal to you to prepare yourselves as best you can and to enlist for the great work that must be done."

"There will be diversity tasks and therefore, diversity of talent and training can be used. All our questions now center in food, its production, its distribution, its use, its conservation, and the more you know about these things the more valuable you will be and the greater will be your services to humanity."

"If you have not already done so we urge you to pursue studies dealing especially with food, but these should be reinforced by courses in chemistry, physiology and economics. It will be well, too, if you have acquired the arts of public presentation of your knowledge to people who so much need it. Fortunately most of our educational institutions now offer courses which give the necessary training for this work but to the others an appeal is being sent to provide such instruction wherever it is possible. More detailed suggestions and directions are to be published soon."

"Today your country asks you to resolve to do what you can in this hour of extreme peril to the democratic people of the world."

Mr. Hoover also has asked the presidents of women's colleges and heads of departments of home economics in colleges and universities to help, pointing out the necessity of educating women students for this work.

MAKE THREAT

(By American Press)

London, Feb. 23.—Demands of Austrian Socialists that the government begin peace negotiations on the basis of President Wilson's recent message has brought the threat from the emperor that he will dismiss parliament if the budget, which the Socialists have it in their power to pass or defeat, is not given a majority. Not only are the Socialists dissatisfied but the Czech, Slay and Polish deputies in the Austrian reichsrath are openly hostile to the government in its war and peace policies, but the military faction still dominates. The evident intention of Germany to completely conquer Russia is creating much friction.

TO AVERT STRIKE

(By American Press)

Boston, Feb. 23.—Matthew C. Brush, president of the Boston elevated railway, whose 8,600 employees voted to strike Monday night unless increased wages and other demands were granted, said that while there had been no request for a conference the company was prepared to meet representatives of the men to discuss the possibility of preventing the threatened interruption of service. The principal demands relate to wages. Another grievance is what the men term the overcrowding of cars to the danger point.

STAR'S HOME USED AS SCENE OF INCIDENTS IN PICTURE

Farnum's Sag Harbor Estate Serves as Background for Beginning of New Film Story.

Some of the scenes of William Fox's newest Farnum photodrama, "The Heart of a Lion," were taken in and around Sag Harbor, where is located William Farnum's summer home.

Mr. Farnum has his summer home situated in the midst of congenial surroundings in a section rich in historical and romantic lore. It is four miles from Sag Harbor proper, fronting on the waters of Shelter Island Sound, within a few miles of ancient Amagansett on the south shore and the sound of the big guns of Uncle Sam's fortifications at the eastern entrance to Long Island Sound on the north shore. During the work of the camera men there, the booming of the heavy rifled pieces was a realistic accompaniment.

During odd spells of picture making Mr. Farnum participated in the tuning up of his racing yacht, the Oliver M.,

77 YEARS OF AGE BUT UNFURLS FLAG ON MEMORIAL HALL

Bright and early Saturday morning a brand new flag was carried to the flagstaff over Memorial Hall by the energetic janitor, John Nier, who is past his 77th year, and without assistance Mr. Nier attached the flag and raised it to its position at the top of the flagstaff.

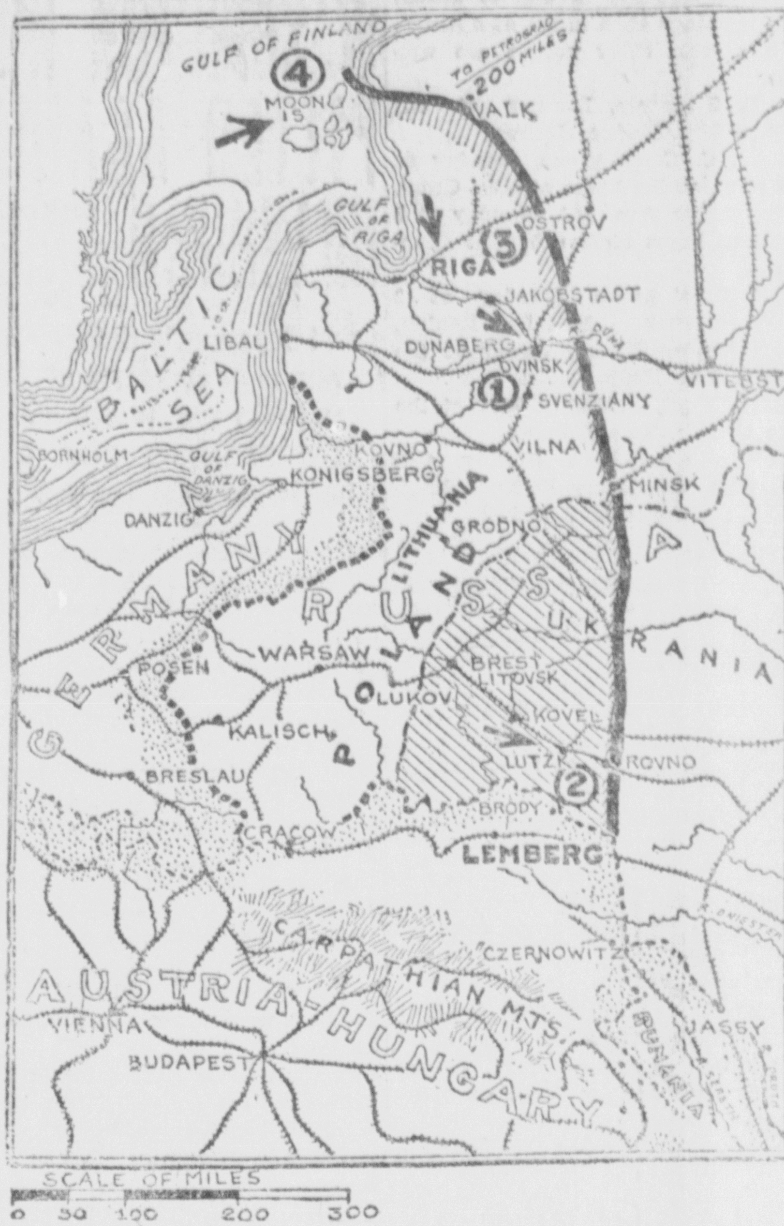

The flag is one of a couple purchased some time ago by the County Commissioners, the other being for the court house, and which had never reached the hands of Mr. Nier until a day or two ago.

Because of cold and wind, Thursday morning, Mr. Nier did not venture to the top of Memorial Hall to unfurl the new flag, but Saturday morning not being able to remain longer in a building where only a few tattered rags floated from the flagstaff, he performed the difficult feat of climbing the various flights of stairs to the roof, walked across the roof to the edge of the structure, and there raised Old Glory.

Husbands Block Food Saving.

Washington, Feb. 23. Masculine appetites are blocking food conservation, according to many housewives. Forty-eight state home economics directors have met with the food administration officials to begin a drive on the marauding appetites of men. Already posters are being prepared to confront the recalcitrant husband in every cigar store, club and streetcar. Beef, sugar, wheat and fats are more needed than ever to win the war, Hoover says.

GERMANY'S DESIGNS ON RUSSIA

Latest reports apparently confirm earlier dispatches that the Bolsheviks have abjectly surrendered to the Germans. Poland, Lithuania, Riga and the Moon Islands are to pass into German hands. Riga (3) and the Moon Islands (4) already were in their possession. Dvinsk (1) and Lutsck (2) were occupied by Teutonic forces "without fighting." The shaded portion of the map shows territory previously given to Ukraine by the Central Powers and now apparently taken back.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Master Harold Redecker has received the following letter from Lieutenant Robert Johnson:

"Somewhere," Jan. 21, 1918.

Dear Harold:

It has been quite a while since I have written to you, but after that wonderful box you people sent me I would certainly be ungrateful if I didn't thank you. You probably do not realize just what a box like that means to me away over here.

At home we would probably eat it up in a day or so and forget all about it. But over here it is different. We make it last for days and then think about it for days after. We don't get much candy here and it sure was fine.

Magazines are even more scarce. I walked eight miles to get a "Saturday Evening Post" and the latest one I could get was Dec. 8th, and then I had to walk all the way back. I am sending a clipping from one of the magazines (a soldier in the trenches reading Popular Mechanics) that will express my appreciation better than I can tell.

Do you remember the snow ball fights we used to have at the "Y"? I was in a place Christmas day and for three days after where the bullets were about as thick as the snow balls used to be. I was lucky enough not to get hit in the eye this time. About fifteen other officers and myself were the first from the "Rainbow Division" to enter the trenches. I ate my Christmas dinner in the first line trenches in a dugout 30 feet under ground. We took a course in bayonet fighting, and then a four day course in the trenches. There were several casualties, but as I said, I was lucky. I won't say I was at ease all the time, but I am glad I had the experience. When my unit goes into the line I will be better fitted to instruct them, as I kept my eyes open while there.

How is everything at the "Y"? I often wonder about you fellows back there and wish sometimes I could see you again. Patton came to see me while I was at the front so I didn't get to see him. This war is going to make the Y. M. C. A. a permanent fixture both in civil life and in the army. They are doing a wonderful work over here and all the soldiers will stand up for it. It is the only recreation they have, and they look to it after drill. They can write all the letters there they want to free of charge and can get reading materials. If they didn't have these few luxuries they'd go stale in a few weeks.

MEMOIR.

Jie A. Vincent was born June 30, 1837, near Frankfurt; departed this life January 11, 1918, being 80 years, 6 months, 11 days old. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Vincent and the last of a family of seven children, being the youngest one. Was married to B. C. Miller, May 3, 1879.

She had always lived at home and been a mother to all—nursing an invalid mother over 20 years. She was a kind, generous woman always looking for the welfare of others. She had been confined to her bed over a year.

She spent most of her life at the old home farm near Frankfurt, lived at Clarkburg a few years; six years ago moved to Washington C. H.

She leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

She united with the Methodist church in her girlhood days; always spoke of a bright future when her suffering was over.

She leaves many relatives among whom are Blanchard and Otto Vincent of Frankfurt and Mrs. Isaac Willis at whose home she died, where funeral services were held January 14. The remains were placed in the vault at the Washington C. H. cemetery on account of the weather. Burial was made at Frankfurt, O., February 20, beside her husband.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their assistance and kindness and remembrance with flowers in the sickness and death of our aunt, Mrs. Jie A. Miller. Also Mr. McCoy, the undertaker for his kindness, and Rev. Cherrington for his comforting words.

A MAN'S CHANCES ON BATTLE FRONT

The Military Hospitals Commission at Quebec has kept an account of how Canadian troops fared in the war, and has compiled some interesting and assuring statistics, based upon its investigations and observations.

Addressing Canadian Mothers and fathers, the Commission says:

If your boy goes to the front—

He has 29 chances of coming home to one chance of being killed.

He has 98 chances of recovering from a wound to two chances of dying.

He has only one chance in 500 of losing a limb.

He will live five years longer because of physical training.

He is freer from disease in the Army than in civil life.

He has better physical care at the front than at home.

In other wars from 10 to 15 men died from disease to one from bullets.

In this war one man dies from disease to every 19 from bullets. This war is less wasteful of life than any other in history.

Only 10 per cent of all Canadians disabled for further service have been physically unable to engage in their former occupations.

If your boy is one of the 10 per cent the Government will re-educate him in another vocation at which he can earn a living.

This doesn't mean that war is a danger-free occupation, and that life in the trenches is as comfortable as in the easy chair at home, but it does make it appear less fearsome than it has been painted over here, especially by pro-German Socialists, Disloyal pacifists and German-born traitors in America.—National Tribune.

"SCANDAL" ENTERTAINING

PATRONS OF COLONIAL

"Scandal," the society photo drama which brought to Constance Talmadge her greatest stellar success and is decidedly the best ever made for her, is being shown at the Colonial the last three days of this week.

It has played to immense houses in the large cities and is drawing big houses to the Colonial.

This star has not been here for some time. Her portrayal of the beautiful, young society debutante in scenes highly sensational, with many amusing complications, affords her a chance for extremely clever acting. It's a highly entertaining play, a play of beautiful homes and luxurious clothes and smart society. The photography is brilliant.

The play runs tonight and Saturday both matinee and evening.

Following numerous complaints, an order has been issued by Police Chief D. L. Moore requiring all automobiles to be equipped with dimmers, as required by the state law.

It is stated that there are many violators of the state law, and that dimmers must be applied to automobiles, either by the use of special lens or otherwise, before March 1st, after which date the matter will be watched closely by the police.

WASHINGTON HIGH PITTED AGAINST HILLSBORO SQUAD

Local Boys Easily Defeat Wilkesville in First Games of Series and Play Undefeated Hillsboro This Afternoon—Final Games of Tournament Tonight.

Four preliminary games of the second south central basketball tournament at Greenfield were played Friday night. South Salem played Waverly, Washington played Wilkesville, McArthur played Hillsboro and Chillicothe played Greenfield.

In the first game South Salem won 27 to 19; Washington won 29 to 9; Hillsboro won 27 to 11, and in the last game Greenfield defeated Chillicothe 16 to 14.

In these games, only one of the first class teams was eliminated, and that was Chillicothe. By this defeat, one of the real contestants was forced to the scrap heap. All other schools defeated were not regarded as major contestants.

The game most interesting to Washington rooters naturally was the W. H. S. Wilkesville set-to, which resulted in a victory for Washington H. S.

Lewis, W. H. S. right forward, single handed made five more points than the entire Wilkesville team. He shot seven field goals. Boots, W. H. S. center, again had the honor to be the premier foul shooter. He made five out of seven attempts. The two second string men, Wilson and Rief, showed that they were capable of slipping into the shoes of the regular men.

The Wilkesville bunch were so out-classed as to have no brilliant playing. It is sufficient to say that they fought it out against hopeless odds.

The Washington line-up was: Lewis, rf; DeVees and Rief, lf; Boots, c; Willis, rg; and Laughlin and Wilson, lg. The Wilkesville line up was: Fitzpatrick, rf; Wood, lf; Strong, c; Benson, rg and Thompson lg.

This afternoon Washington plays Hillsboro. Hillsboro is undefeated this year. H. H. S. beat W. H. S. in the opening game of the season here. This game will mean the elimination of another major contestant.

If Washington defeats Hillsboro she has a mighty good opportunity of winning the series.

Double the Supply of Poultry and Eggs in the United States and Increase the Amount of Available Food 1,500,000 Tons

One hundred hens and several hundred chickens on the average farm, rightly managed, can get nearly all their living in spring, summer and fall "from the land." In feeding themselves they will utilize nearly all the waste grain, and consume great quantities of weeds, weed seeds and destructive insects.

One hundred hens and a few hundred chicks can turn a lot of farm waste into good food. Incidentally the poultry will leave on the land valuable fertilizer at the rate of two or three tons for every hundred birds. One hundred hens on every farm, and one hundred eggs from every hen, mean more poultry and eggs for consumption on the farm, more to sell, more to substitute for red meat, and more power to our arms and the allies.

Warning

TO ALL DOG OWNERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC IN REGARD TO THE NEW DOG LICENSE LAW.
Be sure and see that the regulation tag is worn all the time. We don't want to cause any trouble to the ones that have complied with the law, but it would be your fault if your dog was picked up because it was not wearing a tag. A great many are carrying tags in their pockets. Their intentions are good but it is a violation of the law. It would be up to them to pay all costs. You have paid for your license, believing that other owners should be made to pay. It is up to you to help by complying with the law yourself. Any Justice of the Peace in the County has the proper complaint blanks. If you know of any unlicensed dog, just sign a blank and A. C. Nelson, Deputy, will at once give the complaint the proper attention.

I have tried to make a plain and fair explanation of your duties. We will try to work no injustice on anyone. It is my duty to see that all are treated alike, and that all dogs either be licensed or humanely destroyed. You can be fined not more than $25.00 for keeping or harbouring any dog more than three months old unlicensed, or not more than $100 for allowing a dog to wear a fictitious, altered or invalid tag; that means, it isn't safe to steal a tag and be caught using it. Better leave it alone, and do what the owner did to get it. The nearer we all work in harmony the easier it will be for all. An officer always needs the co-operation of the people in order to best serve them. This is a new law and has to be worked out. I will try to enforce it in the best and most economical way.

Respectfully,
HENRY W. JONES, Sheriff.
